Trouble Between Contractors and Inspectors For the Territory Reaches Climax

yesterday, and announce that it is unsatisfactory.

Trouble has been pending between the commissioners and the contractors since last Wednesday," stated Col. C. J. McCarthy acting chairman, yester-day, after a board meeting. "At that time we would have wirelessed for the immediate return of Mr. Forbes but were under the impression that he was coming on the week end trip of the Maunn Ken. When he failed to arrive, the commission, in order to pro-tect the government and on the advice of the attorney general's department, today ordered the contractor to cease work with the dredge Kewalo."

Colonel McCarthy would not make a statement as to the final action of the commissioners on the grounds that this was properly the priviledge of Mr. Forbes, who is the only engineer on the board.

Large Sums Involved

It is understood that the dispute inlarge sums of money in additional work later on. In this connection, however, the colonel stated that he believed that the government was fully protected by the contractor's bond.

"There have been several things in have met with the disapproval of the Macao inspector in charge," he continued. Chol. the commissioners until last Wednesday afternoon, after Mr. Forbes had sailed for Hilo, which deprived us for Specifications Pilikia "The specifications, however, call for the piles to be driven forty feet and there is one pile, which if I remember, is in the 'A' line, which is sticking up four or five feet. Our inspectors showed us plans and drawings which seem to prove that this has not been the specified forty feet. This depth was set upon the consideration that although the slip is dredged at present to thirty-five it may be desirable later to deepen it.

"I understand the contractor states that he has sunk this pile to hard rock, but in the neighborhood he has driven wooden piles through eleven and twelve feet of rock. As I said, how ever, I am not an engineer and cannot discuss this with technical assurance.

"The principal trouble, which was dredge has to do with the wall, which is inside the 'A' and 'B' lines of con-crete piles and which will support a major part of the building's weight. This wall rests in part on wooden piles, sunk for some distance down and pro teeted from the action of the water and animal life by natural formations. Wall Is Endangered

The dredge Kewalo has been working on the 'B' line of piles, that nearest the wall, and its suction is resulting, it appears, in the destruction of the formations covering the piles under of which the tourist may motor with the wall. This is exposing them to ease and safety, and will eventually undermine the wall and the structure itself. Divers wall and the structure itself. Changes In Method

"In former contracts the government inspection was reserved for the completed job; if the work was satisfactory upon completion and passed in-apection it was accepted, and if not it had to be done over again.

Three Steamers Will Be Loading Or Unloading Their Cargoes This Morning

STRICKERS MAY CALL ON

Matsonia Will Not Be Affected Republic Even If California Longshoremen Agree

Today should tell whether the strikng longshoremen can win. The Decanic steamer Sierra will arrive from Australia, the Matson steamer Wilhelmina will arrive from San Francisco and the Matson steamer Lurline will sail for San Francisco.

If these vessels are handled with reasonable despatch the strike may continue indefinitely, conditioned on the ability of the men to stick it out. but, if the vessels are not worked properly, shipping men say that they do not know what will be the outcome. The Sierra will be discharging seventynine tons of cargo and taking on about 1670, the Wilhelmina will begin discharging 5954 tons for Honolulu, and the Lurline will be finishing a full cargo of sugar and pines for San Francisco.

May Ask Coast Aid Moreover, said Jack Edwardson yes terday the longshoremen's union would wait no longer than today to ask the San Francisco unions to declare unfair. cargo loaded here by non-union men. If nothing occurs today looking toward a settlement, if conferences at least are not arranged, the request will be made. he said, but in no case would there be an appeal as against the Matsonia, due in San Francisco today. The Lur-line and Sierra would be the first vessels which the local union would ask the San Francisco union to tabu. It still is believed generally that San Prancisco will not accede to the request, if one is made.

Shipping men admit that the union strikers are holding out very well, much better than most expected Donations to their funds, enabling them to live, are given as the cause of their tenacity, for, without outside help, it is not believed the men could have remained idle this long. Ment, fish and poi tickets were given out all vesterday, but word was received from the market in the afternoon that the poi supply was exhausted. No large donations were received yesterday, it was stated but several small sums were

Shippers Stand Firm No move has been made by the shipping men to meet with the strikers. Mayor Lane advised the union men in the afternoon that he had received no replies to his letters requesting the companies to meet union representa-

Mr. Edwardson said there would be no increase in the demands. The men reduced their demands from fifty cents said that he called upon C. Brewer & Co., Oceanic agents, yesterday, and of-fered men at the forty and fifty-five cent scale for working the Sierra today, but that the reply was that the scale was considered to be too high. Pay Old Rates Only

James W. Robertson, manager of the shipping department of C. Brewer & Co., said that he had told Mr. Edward son that he would pay only the old rates: two dollars for a nine-hour day and fifty cents an hour overtime: that Mr. Edwardson had asked whether the Oceanic line paid fifty cents an hour, and, on being answered in the affirma-tive, said that the union demands were only five cents more, whereupon Mr. Robertson fetorted that they were five cents too much. So the interview ended.

An amusing story is going the rounds of the waterfront. A Hawaii an striker was watching non-union men work the Lurline, all the while addressing them as "scabs, scabs, scabs. Three or four men were having difficulty lifting a box, and the Hawaiian striker, who had been applying the epithet of "scabs" to them a few
